In the Caribbean part of the Netherlands (the islands of Bonaire, St Eustatius and Saba), a separate Criminal Code applies. Given the drastic changes of 2010 (see: National Report, paras. 4-5), it remains important that the islands are given sufficient time to absorb all the new statutory and other measures that are needed. Important to note is that abuse is already defined as a criminal offence in the Criminal Code for Bonaire, St Eustatius and Saba. Corporal punishment in schools is explicitly prohibited by Aruban law. The adapted Civil Code now includes a prohibition for parents to subject their children to mental or physical violence or to any other degrading treatment (see: National Report, para. 51). In Curaçao, the Civil Code was amended to define parents' role as that of caregivers and educators, prohibiting them from employing emotional or physical violence or any other form of humiliating treatment in parenting their children. The same goes for St Maarten since the passage of the National Ordinance on Parental Responsibility in 2011 amending the Civil Code.
