Implications for planning:

SBS has been stopped since December 2012. EKN started late 2012 with a major support programme for the judiciary and prosecution to hire international expertise (ICTR released staff and other) to be able to engage with the newly extradited trials that have a lot of political attention from abroad and that need to take place in full compliance with international judicial standards. As the capacity of Rwanda until the recent extradition decisions by ICTR did not take this new caseload into account, it is of the essence that the country is adequately prepared to ensure due process. Furthermore, EKN is currently (mid 2013) preparing a new initiative in the field of reconciliation, which continues to be a major need and requirement in the country. In addition, a specialised programme will be set up related to the fight against GBV. The programme will entail the setting up of one stop centres in all 30 districts. Both programmes will involve civil society and activities will start in 2013.
